

Lesson 7: Letter

This an interdisciplinary lesson. Explain or review letter writing and have students express what they have learned about the importance of species and habitat. Have students write a letter to their mayor, governor, senator, or congressman informing him or her why we should take care of our habitat and give ideas of what we can do to protect our environment. Students have the opportunity to write about the species they wrote reports on or the habitats in which these species live.
